2. Disruptive Innovation and Health Care Reform

Dr. Clayton M. Christensen, Harvard Business School professor, summarized many of his ideas on disruptive innovation and their application to health care included in a book he coauthored, "The Innovator's Prescription: A Disruptive Solution for Health Care." Following Dr. Christensen's comments, those in attendance assembled in groups to develop suggestions for applying disruptive innovation theories to health care in Utah. Several groups then presented their ideas and Dr. Christensen commented on and facilitated group discussion about the ideas. The meeting concluded with summary comments by Dr. Christensen.

Chair Clark adjourned the meeting at 12:10 p.m.
